New Family Programming

Yom Kippur - Saturday, September 30 • 11 am

Family High Holy Day Service (Halpern Hall)

The power of a family experience can add incredible depth of meaning, particularly at a time that holds so much sanctity. These services, led by Rabbi Josh and Alan Goldweber, will allow adults and children to sit together, pray together, and experience the holy days together.

These family services follow the familiar liturgy with a creative approach, opportunities for participation, and most importantly, many special moments that revolve around the family unit. For this reason, we ask that children who attend these services be accompanied by at least one related adult (or have their child join with a friend's family).

Young Children's Holiday Experience (Gottlieb Auditorium)

This holiday experience combines singing, storytelling, movement, unique project stations and the sounds of the shofar to create an enjoyable holiday experience for families with young children.

Kosher Food Drive

Through Simhat Torah, we ask each family to bring in non-perishable food to the synagogue to place in the collection bins in Gross Atrium or at the school entrance. All food will be donated to the JFSA Food Pantry. Please do not bring in expired food.

Yom Kippur Teen Programming (6th – 12th Grades)
Saturday, September 30 • 11 am • Nickman Chapel

Guest speaker Ricky Jackson served over 39 years for a crime he did not commit – the longest time in prison of any person exonerated in U.S. history. He was a Cleveland teenager when he was sentenced to death for the murder-robbery of a salesman. The sole evidence against Ricky and his co-defendants was the false, coerced testimony of a 13-year-old boy. No physical or forensic evidence linked any of them to the crime, none of them had any prior criminal record and defense witnesses provided all with credible alibis. Nevertheless, they were sentenced just months after their arrest, which was later commuted to life without parole. Join us to hear Ricky's compelling story.

Sisterhood Happenings

Lunch & Learn: VeloSano Bike to Cure
Tuesday, October 3 • noon

Mo Farunia, assistant director of development of VeloSano Philanthropy Institute at the Cleveland Clinic, will tell us what they're doing with the monies raised and answer questions about their latest cancer research projects.

$10 member; $12 non-member. RSVP by October 1 to Robin Rood (440-666-7658 or rroodrd@gmail.com) and mail checks made out to BJC Sisterhood to 113 Silver Springs Trail, Chagrin Falls, 44022.

Paul Landis: Eyewitness to a President's Assassination
Sunday, October 8 • 2 pm • Dessert Reception

Mr. Landis served our nation as a Secret Service Agent. His assignments included protecting President Eisenhower's grandchildren, the White House Detail, the Caroline & John Jr. "Kiddie Detail" as well as guarding First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy. He witnessed President Kennedy's assassination from the Secret Service car right behind the President. He continued to guard Mrs. Kennedy, but after six months, with the memories of Dallas still fresh in his mind, he submitted his resignation. Over 40 years of relative silence followed, and now over 50 years later, he is willing to share some of those memories, both pleasant and sad.

$5 per person for Sisterhood or Men's Club members; $8 for all others. RSVP by Sunday, October 1 to Carolyn Marcs c/o the synagogue office. Please make checks payable to BJC Sisterhood. Questions? Contact Carolyn (440-725-5753).

Early Childhood & Youth Happenings

Sukkah Decorating Party & Lunch
Sunday, October 1 • 11:30 am - 1:00 pm

Free! Open to all ages. Please RSVP to the synagogue office. Come make sukkah decorations, help put up our sukkah and enjoy a pizza lunch!

Making the Connection: Family Sukkot Program
Saturday, October 7 • 10:30 am

Join us for Sukkot fun and excitement, and experiences to help bring meaningful Jewish learning into your home (including a session just for parents). This program is in place of Family Shabbat this month.

Sundays with Sammy Spider
Sunday, October 15 • 9:30 am

Join Sammy Spider, of the favorite Jewish children's book series, as we enjoy a fun morning for little ones, ages 18 months to 4 years, with an adult. This month, Sammy will dance with the Torah as we enjoy a music class with Jesse Friedberg of Jesse's Jukebox. There will also be a Sammy story, craft and snack as we celebrate Simhat Torah. Free for synagogue members; $5 per nonmember families. RSVP required to Julie Sukert, or register online at bnaijeshurun.org/sammypider.

Future dates: November 12, December 10, January 14.

Hiram House Camp Pumpkin Festival
Sunday, October 8 • 10 am – 5 pm

B'nai Jeshurun will be bringing our sukkah to the Pumpkin Festival! Stop by our booth and enjoy a special treat and kid's craft. At 1 pm, our clergy will join us to shake the lulav and say the blessings. Contact Shani Kadis to learn more.

Admission is $5 per person or $25 for an all day activity band which includes archery, bounce house, candle dipping, haunted hay maze, pony rides, rocket car ride, and much more! Children under 12 are free. Learn more and buy advance tickets at hiramhousecamp.org.

The camp is located at 33775 Hiram Trail in Moreland Hills. Parking is available at Orange School on Chagrin Blvd. Take the free buses to the camp. No pets or picnic baskets, please. All proceeds to benefit the Hiram House Campership Fund-providing a life-enriching summer experience for children of all backgrounds.

The Inevitable Decree and Learning to Say Goodbye by Rabbi Arie Hasit, Conservative Yeshiva alum; leader of Minyan Shivioni in Mazkeret Batya

Parashat Ha'azinu, read this year between Rosh HaShana and Yom Kippur, is the last parashah that we read on Shabbat before completing and restarting the cycle on Simchat Torah. As such, even though it does not end the Torah, it is still a climax in the communal experience of reading and grappling with the text on a weekly basis. The last verse, the one with which we end our Shabbat readings for the year, describes what must surely be the great disappointment of Moses's life. As he stands on Mount Nebo, across from Israel, God first tells Moses that he will die on that day, and then says to him, "You may view the land from a distance, but you shall not enter it-the land that I am giving to the Israelite people" (Deut: 32:52).

Read at a time in which we regularly pray to be written in the Book of Life, the message that ends our parashah is a scary one. Moses has lived a long and fulfilling life-from leading the people out of Egypt to personally speaking to God and receiving the Torah-but he is denied the ultimate prize out of punishment for one sin. One action taken by Moses, in a moment of anger and frustration, and there is no opportunity for repentance. Instead he must accept that he can see his people led into Israel, but he cannot join them there.

Rabbi Bradley Artson, Dean of the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies, reflects on this last moment in Moses's life in his book, The Everyday Torah. There he writes, "Moses resembles each of us-always on the way, never able to reach the final destination, but blessed with the vision to see what we cannot attain ourselves...The ultimate goal is one that we cannot attain as individuals but is a gift to the ages-to our children and to all children." Read this way, Moses's death is not a punishment at all, but rather he lives to see his leadership come to fruition and lives to see the next generation take on the mantle of all that he taught them.

As our High Holiday liturgy focuses on life and death, we have a need to understand how to make meaning of difficult, fatalistic passages. When we sing the haunting "U'ntaneh Tokef," asking who will live and who will die, and for the latter, in what horrible ways, how do we make sense of the knowledge that good people will leave us in the coming year? The end of Ha'azinu gives us a clue. Death is not to be seen as a punishment, for it is the very thing that makes us human. Even Moses, as great and important as he is, cannot live forever. Our prayer instead reminds us of how fleeting life can be and how unexpectedly it could end. In that moment, we are challenged first to think about how we will make the most of every minute we have with the people whom we love. Yet as we inevitably think about the people we have lost, we have an opportunity to remember not what could have been but what was-how those people shaped us to be who we are, how they led us to a promised land that they could not enter. We cannot go back and bring them with us, but we can live the lives they inspired us to live as their memory accompanies us always.

Table Talk by Vered Hollander-Goldfarb, Conservative Yeshiva Faculty

As Rosh Hashana takes place right before Shabbat, some of the questions in this week's Table Talk are about the readings of the 2 days of Rosh Hashana.

1) On the first day of Rosh Hashana we read (Bereshit 21) about the birth of Yitzchak (Isaac). Why was this theme chosen for Rosh Hashana? Why do you think that this particular birth story was chosen?

2) On that day we read as the Haftara the story of Samuel's birth (I Sam 1:1-2:10). What elements of the story are similar to that of the Torah reading? What does that story add to our understanding of Yitzchak's birth?

3) On the second day of Rosh Hashana we read (bereshit 22) about Akedat Yitzchak (the binding of Isaac). How is this connected to Rosh Hashana? How is it connected to the theme of the first day? What light does it add to that theme?

And a little Parashat Hashavua - Haazinu:

4) This powerful poem explains several things that the people of Israel need to know. 32:39 is such a section. What does God explain about Himself? Why might these dual abilities be confusing (this was a polytheistic world)?

5) On the second day of Rosh Hashana we read (bereshit 22) about Akedat Yitzchak (the binding of Isaac). How is this connected to Rosh Hashana? How is it connected to the theme of the first day? What light does it add to that theme?

Kadima to Corner Alley and Mitchell's

May He who blessed our ancestors and is the source of all healing bless and heal those who are ill. May the Holy One Praised Be He mercifully restore them to vigor and lift the burden of anxiety from their loved ones and friends.

On this (Sabbath, Festival, Judgment or Penitence) day we pray that they be spared further pain. May God grant them health of body and health of spirit and mind. May we speedily be privileged to greet their return to good health by welcoming them once again into our midst. Let us say: Amen.

Anyone wanting to add a name to the list should contact Diane Shalom (216-831-6555 ext. 104 or dianeshalom@bnaijeshurun.org) by Thursday afternoon at the latest for inclusion in that Shabbat's program. We will also pause during the prayer for people to recite additional names from their seats.

FILL THE TRUCK TO HOUSTON! Ongoing through October 5

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation, along with the City of Orange, are teaming up to deliver a truckload of supplies to Houston to help those affected by Hurricane Harvey. A truck will rotate between the synagogue parking lot and Orange Village Hall Parking Lot (located at 4600 Lander Rd.) from 8:30 am – 5:30 pm. Typically, the truck will be with us during the week and at Orange on weekends and holidays. Items needed include:

Non-perishable food and bottled water
Children's and adult clothing, shoes and jackets (new or gently used)
Underwear, men's and women's (new)
School supplies/backpacks
Medical items – wheelchairs, walkers, canes and other hard goods
Children's toys (new or in boxes)
Toiletries: toilet paper, diapers, wipes, personal hygiene items
Pet supplies
Small furniture items, cots w/mattresses
Religious items, including prayer books of all faiths
Storage containers/bins
Dishes, utensils, including paper and plastic

If you would like to volunteer with drop-offs or have questions, call 216-299-8377.
